Intern of the Month

Tara Black interned this summer with Abbott Laboratories, a Fortune 100 Company, after hearing about the internship through a Juniata Alum. With a major in Health Marketing and Public Relations, Tara was a part of the Shopper and Category Development Team in Columbus, OH.

During her internship, Tara was given the responsibility of analyzing shopper insights for the online sights, and creating a better e-commerce strategy for the company. The projects done by Abbott's interns are presented to the Directors, and evaluated and used by the company. Tara's favorite part of her experience with Abbott was the ability to work in a corporate environment, getting to interact with those in senior leadership positions, and expanding her research, leadership, and public speaking skills.

Following her internship, Tara was offered a full-time position with Abbott after her impressive work. After graduating a semester early, Tara will begin working for Abbott in January.
